The H B Playwrights Foundation provides a creatively free working atmosphere and a responsible theatre program for new American playwrights.

The Foundation's program makes a permanent artistic home available both to promising new writers who need the experience of seeing their work performed, and to mature writers who are confined by conditions inherent in a commercial theatre.

New plays by American playwrights, dramatic adaptations of work from the mainstream of American literature, and new plays by American authors who previously have distinguished themselves in other literary forms are developed and presented in the Foundation's theatre.

Since its first season in 1964/65, the Foundation has presented over thirty productions and eighteen public readings of new American plays.

The Foundation is sustained through the goodwill and generosity of its friends. No member of a production is paid, and no admission fee is charged, in accordance with the Foundation's agreement with Actor's Equity Association. You are invited to help support the Foundation program by becoming a Sponsoring Associate.

Contributions to help the Foundation are welcomed, and should be mailed to The H B Playwrights Foundation, Inc., 122 Bank Street, New York, New York 10014. All contributions are tax-deductible.

THE HB PLAYWRIGHTS FOUNDATION, INC.

Nobody knows more than theatre folk how much fun it is to watch theatre folk pretend to understand each other. We all do this very well. We make faces of killing intelligence, nod, agree, shift weight, and smile. But the blunt truth is that most of us are seldom listening to a word anyone else is saying. I may watch your lips, but I am listening to my own desires, and since that makes plays, it's healthy and proper.

And that's what's good about having a play done here. You don't have to be all that passionately committed. You don't have to pretend you understand somebody when you don't. You don't have to sit around and receive the theatrical Word, helpful perhaps for performers, but paralysis and sudden death for many a writer. You don't have to write something to fit in, and convince yourself it was really the other way around. You don't have to yell yes! all the time. You don't have to give blood, just plays.

The Playwrights at the HB Playwrights Foundation have presented readings and productions of about 64 authors over the past seven years, ranging from works by Pulitzer Prize winners to first attempts, from historical tragedies to modern farces. Young actors and old pros come in and work free. Audiences don't get passed any kind of hat. Everybody works as hard as they can, and are happy to do it.

For all sorts of reasons, it is a good place, and it deserves all the help it can get.

ROMULUS LINNEY (Author)

Romulus Linney's novels, HEATHEN VALLEY and SLOWLY, BY THY HAND UNFURLED, were published in the 60's to critical acclaim. His first play, THE SORROWS OF FREDERICK, after its premiere at the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles, has been internationally produced, most notably at the Burgtheatre in Vienna, where it won two of Austria's highest theatre awards. It was published in 1968 by Harcourt, Brace & World. DEMOCRACY AND ESTHER, a play based on the novels of Henry Adams, and three sets of short plays have been produced by the H B Playwrights Foundation. Mr. Linney teaches English at the Manhattan School of Music, and playwrighting at the H B Studio, with Herbert Berghof.

PAUL EARLS (Composer)

The American composer Paul Earls works in a wide range of musical idioms. His compositions for electronic media, vocal, chamber, solo, and for large ensembles have been performed in New York at the Composers' Theatre, the Composers' Forum, the Guggenheim Museum, and at Lincoln Center's Tully Hall. He is Director of the Electronic Music Studio at Duke University, working this year on a Guggenheim Fellowship at the MIT Center for Advanced Visual Studies, experimenting in the areas of environmental music. Among Mr. Earls' many works is an opera, THE DEATH OF KING PHILLIP, to a libretto by Romulus Linney, scheduled for production by the H B Playwrights' Foundation in the near future.
